

LODGE UNEARHTED ELECTION FRAUDS

H. H. Frohlichstein Says B'Nai Brith Indirectly Notified the St. Louis Grand Jury.

JEWISH REFUGEES VICTIMS.

Association Brought 12,000 From Kishenev and Roumania Into America in 1904—Observe Anniversary of Order.

At the celebration last night of B'Nai Brith day by Missouri Lodge, No. 22, at its headquarters, No. 315 Pine street, S.
H. Frohlichstein, the orator of the evening, said that the St. Louis Grand Jury was indirectly notified that registration frauds were being perpetrated in the city by B'Nai Brith.

Officers of the order, he said, learned of the frauds from refugees from Kishenev and Roumania who were innocent victims of the manipulators, and one of them told the Grand Jury what was going on.

A meeting of the association formed by the refugees was called at the request of the B'Nai Brith in the meantime, and the unhappy Jews were told of the crime they would commit. Their president ordered all to keep away from the polls, and of course, none voted.

The meeting last night was the best attended for some time. All the prominent Hebrews in the city were present, and after a short programme dancing was indulged in until a late hour. About 250 persons were present at the exercises, which began at 8:15 o'clock and lasted until a late hour. Music was furnished by Professor I. N. Nelson, a violinist.

The committee on arrangements was composed of the following: Joseph Stampfer, president; Harry Simon, vice president; Emile Mayer, George Laski, Elkin
W. Glauber, Henry Steiner, Sam Weil, T.
L. Rubenstein and Doctor G. Moritz. The celebration was in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order, which is the only Jewish benevolent, beneficiary and protective secret organization in the world.

President Stampfer presided and delivered a short address of welcome. Miss Anna Mae Lowenstein then rendered a piano solo.

WHAT B'NAI BRITH HAS DONE.
Mr. Frohlichstein then made his address on "What the B'Nai Brith Has Done for Humanity." He spoke first of the hospitals, asylums and other institutions founded by the order, mentioning especially the Nonsectarian Hospital for Consumptives in Denver, Colo., and the orphanage at Cleveland. All Jewish orphans of St. Louis are taken there.

Twelve thousand refugees from Russia and Roumania were brought by B'Nai Brith into the United States in 1904. Since coming through New York, he said, the association has deposited with the United States Treasury, $100,000 for the benefit of the refugees, and when the disasters that reached America, $100,000 was raised at headquarters in New York to bring the refugees here, after every country in Europe had refused to allow them to remain within its borders.

Of the 120,000 Roumanians first to arrive in New York, the St. Louis lodge took fifty-five. From Kishenev 25 were welcomed to St. Louis, and altogether 500 homeless refugees were taken care of in 1904 and homes and employment given to them.

In speaking of a petition for the intercession of the President in the Kishenev massacre, signed by thousands of Gentiles, and presented by Leo Frohlichstein, he said that the order had been instrumental in the intercession. Although Russia refused to receive and recognize the petition, there is no doubt that the order has been instrumental in the intercession, and undoubtedly it has had the effect of bringing about a more liberal policy. And today it looks as if the order has been successful.

When the Kishenev massacre was perpetrated Mr. Levi presented a petition to the President of the United States asking for intercession on behalf of the refugees. Although Russia refused to

DOG SHOT FOR RABIES BURIED AFTER A WAKE.

Residents of Garrison and Eastern Avenues Mourning Death of Pet and Hold Funeral Ceremonies.

Residents of the vicinity of Garrison and Eastern avenues held a wake over the body of a dog last night. Yesterday morning the canine, a Newfoundland, showed symptoms of rabies, and a patrolman Rhodes was ordered to shoot it.
"Rover" as the dog was called, had been the pet of the neighbors and after his death the neighbors gathered with carnations and roses furnished by children.
The body of the dog was laid out in the back of a hearse, and a wake was held at the blacksmith shop at No. 263 Eastern avenue, where it was raised on.
At about 7 o'clock the neighbors commenced to gather, until the shop was filled with people. The wake was held until midnight, when the body was buried in the rear of the shop and was buried by the light of torches.

RAILROADS CANADIANS BUILD MANY CAR SHOPS

Manufacturers of Railroad Equipment in United States Believe There Will Be Enough
Orders for All.

In the last year considerable activity has been displayed on the Canadian side of the border in preparation for extensive car and locomotive building, both as regards contract work and company shops.

Also, during the last few years large increases have been made in railway-shop facilities in the United States.

The question has been raised as to the effect that these developments may be expected to have upon the business of American contract builders. Expressions of opinion obtained from the principal American builders are to the effect that, as to the first question, the work that can be expected is the loss of a portion of the Canadian orders that now come to this country, and these have constituted but a trifling percentage of their total business.

The work of Canadian builders will necessarily be largely confined to domestic business, and even at the present rate of development it is likely to be some years before Canadian facilities will be great enough to supply the home demand.

As to the second point, builders express equally optimistic views. With the increase in volume of equipment in service the necessity for repair facilities also increases. It is considered unlikely that except in rare instances, the increased shop facilities will be used to a large extent in new construction. This belief is rendered all the more probable from the generally conceded fact that contract companies can build for about 10 per cent less than railroad companies can do the work.

provided the railroad companies' estimates are based on a correct cost sheet and do not deceive themselves as to the cost of work done in company shops.

A single other point is worthy of mention, and it is one upon which both the contract builders and the railroads are in full agreement. This is the matter of export business. While no attempt has been made to compile statistics under this head, it is apparent from the statements made by the larger concerns, builders of other cars or locomotives, that the volume of export work is steadily increasing.

With the additional knowledge that must be gained of American methods and American workmanship, by the increasing number of large numbers of prominent foreign railway officials, this branch of our national industries should receive such an impetus from outside orders as to afford a substantial offset to the lean years which may occur periodically in the home demand.

Track Elevation in Chicago.

The extent and cost of the work of track elevation which has been carried on in the city of Chicago by various railway companies during the last few years are not generally realized. Already 82 miles of main lines and 425 miles of branch tracks have been elevated on steel viaducts at an expenditure of nearly $20,000,000, and work is progressing rapidly, which will cost over $10,000,000 more, making a grand total thus far contemplated of $30,000,000 expended or to be expended on the railway companies at the request of the city to promote the safety of its citizens. The figures, condensed from the report of the city's track elevation expert, show as follows:

	Work Done.	Cost.
Track elevation, main lines, m.	82	$18,000,000
Track elevation, branch lines, m.	425	$12,000,000
Subways, m.	25	$2,000,000
Cost of work, m.	152	$32,000,000

In addition to all the other ordinances before the Council and City, to raise requiring the elevation by nine companies of 17.6 miles of main line and 44.5 miles of branch tracks, which is estimated to cost $10,000,000, and even this when done, will not complete the great task which the city has imposed at the expense of the railways alone.

Palm Beach Traffic Meeting.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 8.—One of the most important traffic meetings of the year is scheduled about ten days hence at Palm Beach. The purpose of the meeting rates established by this connection have been a subject of controversy for some time. At the same time, the Southern Railway Association, which will consider the application for the rates to be reduced for traffic from St.

Louis to Southeastern territory.

To Restrict Scalpers.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—All the railroads concerned in Chicago will make application to Judge Kolbasch of the United States District Court for an injunction restraining all persons from selling or offering for sale, in any form, for profit, any of the tickets issued by the railroads, and will ask the court to issue a writ of habeas corpus to carry the matter to the United States Supreme Court without delay.
